

Mockup Review Notes

- Prefer Mockup A
- Add a home button labeled love actually to bring users back to the home page
- Make the text for the buttons bolder so it is easier to differentiate them from the body text
- Create a footer with the navigation labels
- For the mobile view create more of a margin so the text is not so close to the edge so it is easier to read
- We didn't talk about this in the meeting but I think it could be nice for the buttons to have a white background with a red edge so there's more contrast between the buttons and the ribbon on the desktop view. It could then switch to the buttons having a red background for the mobile view.
- For the navigation bar, it could be sticky but I would prefer if it wasn't because I think the ribbon could interfere with the reading experience.
